Concord Troop Gets Equipment

Boy Scout Troop 155, Concord, has received some new camping equipment for their troop. Approximately $50.00 worth of camp cooking equipment was "commissioned" at the Thursday, September 14th, troop meeting.

The equipment was purchased from a part of the proceeds earned by members of Troop 155 in a recent fund raising drive and from donations from the Ruritan Club. A gift of a camper's ax was also received from Barker-Jennings Company of Lynchburg. The troop will use this equipment for the first time on an overnight camp-out scheduled for Saturday, September 16th. Patrol group cooking skills will be exercised.
